

Stay Healthy for the Season!

Protect your life!

The contact nature of Hockey at all levels, the size and strength of today's players and the speed with which it is played make the brain vulnerable to injury

Unrecognized and untreated, the cumulative effects of these sub-concussive impacts can last a lifetime.

Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy has been shown to successfully treat the effects of concussion and the cumulative sub-concussive impacts

Awareness of Concussion and Sub-concussive events is at an all-time high

Untreated, these events can affect:

Physical symptoms such as coordination, headaches

Emotional stability such as depression and anger

Academic standing by affecting memory and concentration
